COLIN BAILEY

Limited edition fine art prints of Rye, Hastings and the East Sussex coast.

Rye & Hastings, East Sussex - the cobbled streets of Rye, the Old town of Hastings and the weathered textures of the East Sussex coast. Limited edition etchings and giclee prints by Colin Bailey.

The ancient Cinque ports of Rye & Hastings are steeped in the traditions of the sea, smuggling and epic naval struggles against the French. Tough little wooden fishing boats with wave battered hulls and sun faded paint work float against a picturesque backdrop of timber framed buildings and cobbled streets.

Colin Bailey is an artist / printmaker / photographer living and working in Hastings, East Sussex after living in Rye for 10 years. Well known as an etcher, he also paints in oils or acrylics, and more recently has experimented with photography

He is now reproducing some of his paintings for the first time as more affordable limited edition giclee prints and high quality greetings cards. From the original painting to the final editioning, the process is completely in the hands of Colin himself, who scans, prints, hand numbers and signs each print to insure accuracy and quality.

As well as his traditional views of Rye & Hastings, there is now a section of work exploring the textures and structures of Rye Bay (the East Sussex coast between Hastings and Dungeness). Ancient groynes, banks of constantly shifting shingle, fishing boats drying on the beach, and the prehistoric coast at the foot of the cliffs at Rock-a-Nore are explored in detailed black and white etchings and almost abstract paintings. Close-up and often ambiguous, these pictures of peeling, faded paintwork, rusting metal and cracked, bleached wood chart the results of man-made and natural structures slowly breaking up through the relentless onslaught of rain, wind, sun, sea, sand and time

He exhibits frequently in various venues in Rye & Hastings. See News for details of forthcoming shows.
